

GSA TICKET POLICY

All events for which the Graduate Student Association (GSA) provides tickets are supported and subsidized through funding received by the collection of mandatory student activity fees. In an effort to make sure that these fees are utilized to the best of our ability and to ensure that tickets are made available to as many fee paying graduate students as possible, standard GSA policy allows for one ticket per UB ID to be sold to each fee paying graduate student for any and all events and/or activities, unless otherwise stated. Students who have waived their student activity fee, or students who are not members of the GSA are therefore not eligible to purchase (or receive free) subsidized tickets to any GSA or GSA sponsored events. In instances where guest tickets are made available for purchase to non-fee paying students, such guest tickets may not exceed 10% of the total ticket sales for any particular event or activity.

Quantities for all events are limited. All tickets will be distributed at the discretion of the GSA E-board. The location of the distribution or the sale of tickets shall be noted on all advertisements for the event or activity. Students must be present with their UB ID in order to purchase and/or receive tickets.

Tickets for GSA events and/or activities are generally non-refundable, however the GSA may issue refunds at their discretion for any ticket for any and all events and/or activities sponsored in whole or in part by the GSA. Refunds will only be offered in instances where changes were made that were out of the GSA's control (i.e. cancellation due to weather, or by the vendor). Refunds will not be issued based on errors on the purchaser's part (i.e. late arrival, or not in attendance at the event).

The GSA reserves the right to revoke any and all tickets to any and all events and/or activities sponsored in whole or in part by the GSA.

Any student found to produce or to be in possession of an unauthorized ticket(s) shall have said ticket(s) revoked without refund.

The GSA may expel any person for any reason from any and all events and/or activities sponsored in whole or in part by the GSA.

Any student or patron may be denied access to, or removed from, any and all events and/or activities sponsored in whole or in part by the GSA without refund if said student has been found to have violated the GSA Ticket Policy, and/or University at Buffalo rules and regulations, and/or GSA's ticketing agent's rules and regulations.
