

---

The 2022 GSE Student Research Symposium Registration is now Open!

---

The Graduate School of Education presents the 29th Annual GSE Research Symposium:
“Seeds for Change: Evidence-Informed Research and Practice in 2022 and Beyond”

March 30th, 2022, via Zoom

Full schedule, additional information, and registration for this free event can be found on our website: <https://ubwp.buffalo.edu/gse-srs-2022/>

---

The Department of Learning and Instruction and the Graduate Student Association Clubs from ELP, CEP and LAI cordially invite you to the 2022 Symposium event highlighting student research efforts and featuring keynote speaker Dr. Patricia (Tish) Jennings, an internationally recognized leader in the fields of social and emotional learning and mindfulness in education

With spring comes renewed optimism. This year’s research symposium theme is bound by ideas with the power to grow the seeds for change. These ideas and the potential they hold will shed new light after a long year of reckoning with global challenges such as the ongoing pandemic, systemic racism, health inequities, climate change impacts, and more — offering renewed optimism for the future. Researchers, educators and professionals can cultivate this optimism in the work they do. This symposium is an exciting opportunity to engage collaboratively, both within and across disciplines, supporting GSE students to share their ideas and optimism in this new climate. The symposium features student research posters, papers, and panels.

SYMPOSIUM SCHEDULE AND FAQ CAN BE FOUND AT OUR WEBSITE.

QUESTIONS CAN BE SENT TO GSESYMPOSIUMLAI2022@GMAIL.COM